

Amsterdam K-C Organizing Squires Boys' Group Sunday

Amsterdam Knights of Columbus Council 209 has completed plans for the reactivation of the St. John de LaLande Circle of Columbian Squires 399 and the formal investiture will take place in the council chambers on Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

The Squire organization is a group sponsored by the Supreme Council of the Order of the Knights of Columbus acting through the local council, its purpose being to afford a program which will coordinate the activities of the mind, body and soul so that the boy members will be better prepared to carry on life's activities when they reach maturity.

To achieve this end the order proposes a program which provides four distinct and different lines of education. These are of a spiritual, civic-cultural, social and physical nature.

Facets Explained
The spiritual phase tends to better instruct the boy in his religious way of life. This program is monitored by a father, prior and the priest selected to lead and advise this formative group is the Rev. Harold T. Colburn, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church.

As the term would imply the civic-cultural facet provides an educational program which will enlighten as to the practical way of living in government, home and community fashion.

The social activity embodies a program where a boy can participate actively in a program which will broaden his scope of knowledge of the social graces facilitating his know-how for what is necessary in the social conduct of everyday life.

Sports being of paramount importance in the lives of all boys, the Squire organization is fully cognizant of its necessity and provides possibilities where the boys may actively participate in baseball, softball, basketball, swimming, bowling, tennis and golf.

Pallotta Chief Counselor
All activities will be monitored by members of Amsterdam Council 209 who have volunteered to serve as counselors. Chief counselor will be Nicholas J. Pallotta.

The ceremony will be exemplified by a team of Squires from North Tarrytown under the supervision of District Deputy William A. Doorley and Vice Chairman Robert Losier. Attending the ceremony from the Supreme Council will be field representative for Squires' activities, Edward Walker, New Haven, Conn.

Following the exemplification, a social hour will be enjoyed consisting of a short speaking program and a luncheon to be served by the stewards' committee.

UPCOUNTY MAN HOSPITALIZED—A mud-covered 1953 model automobile lies upside down off the Old Fort Plain Rd., a quarter mile east of Fort Plain, as the result of an accident at 3 o'clock this morning. The driver, Patrick O'Connor, 43, of Canajoharie R.D. 2, was removed to Amsterdam City Hospital with head injuries and extensive lacerations to the face. He was still in a state of shock this morning and could not be questioned by officials as to details of the mishap. O'Connor had been driving east when the car hurtled over a 30-foot embankment into the old canal bed. The door of the car had to be pried open to remove O'Connor, who was alone in the car. Car Plunges to Canal Bed, Canajoharie Man Injured

A 43-year-old upcounty man was hospitalized early this morning after his car left the Old Fort Plain Rd., a quarter mile east of Fort Plain, plunged down a 30-foot embankment and came to a stop upside down in the old canal bed.

The driver, Patrick O'Connor of Canajoharie R.D. 2, was removed to Amsterdam City Hospital with head injuries and extensive lacerations to the face. His condition was described as "fairly good" toward noon today.

Officials of the Sheriff's Department were unable to question the victim following the crash since he was in a state of shock, and they planned to get details from the victim this afternoon.

The accident happened about 3 a.m. as O'Connor was driving east. His car apparently continued straight ahead on a right curve, plunged nose first into the muddy canal bed and flopped over on its top. The car dug a deep hole as it hit.

When County Investigator William S. Wert arrived on the scene, O'Connor was still in the front seat of the car and a bar had to be used to pry open a door to remove the victim. The Swartz ambulance out of Fort Plain took the victim to the hospital.

The accident happened between Route 5-S and the West Shore Railroad tracks.

Two cars were damaged slightly and no injuries were reported in an accident at 6:20 yesterday evening at the intersection of Sanders and Paris Rds. in the Town of Minden.

The crash involved cars operated by Mary E. Gerhart, 27, of Fort Plain R.D. 1, and Delbert Darrah Sr., 54, of Box 202, Fort Plain. The Gerhart car was traveling north on Sanders Rd. and Darrah was driving out of Paris Rd.

There was slight damage to both cars and each was able to be driven away from the scene. County Investigator Wert, and Deputies Laverne Trommer and Frank Zagola investigated.

U.S. Farmers Vote to Continue Wheat Controls for Sixth Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers voted Friday for the sixth straight year to keep a somewhat ineffective federal clamp on wheat production.

A referendum held in 38 commercial producing states resulted in 165,868 votes for controls on the 1959 wheat crop and 32,342 votes against curbs. This was a majority of 83.7 per cent, far more than the necessary two-thirds.

Seven Votes in County

In Montgomery County, the vote was four against controls and three in favor of curbs, according to Wilbur Lang, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

New York State farmers voted 509-313 for continuing the present quotas. There were 829 votes cast. Last year, 927 of the state's farmers voted in the referendum. In favor were 588.

The outcome was no surprise to farm officials and leaders even though the program has been under attack on the ground it has failed to prevent the accumulation of what may turn out this year to be the largest wheat surplus on record.

The alternative—freedom to produce at much lower prices—was generally looked upon as even less inviting.

The program imposes marketing quotas on individual farms and assesses penalties on excess sales.

'58 Gubernatorial Campaign Just Another Battle to Hall

LEONARD HALL
... Dinner speaker

A man whose Republicanism started back in the days when his father was coachman to President Theodore Roosevelt at his Oyster Bay Estate and who was named after one of Teddy's best friends, Gen. Leonard Wood, will be the principal speaker at the $10-a-plate dinner of the Montgomery County Republicans at the Elks Club next Wednesday night.

In addition to Leonard Hall, leading contender for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the county GOP will hear several speakers of high rank in the state, also Harold Craig of TV quiz fame.

Hall has had a reputation as a fighter for many years and the current campaign is just another battle to the man who has opposed "Boss" Frank Tappen, 20-year leader of Oyster Bay Republicans, losing the first round and winning the second, served as assemblyman, sheriff of Nassau County, leader of the revolt against Irving M. Ives in 1937 Assembly, served seven terms in the House of Representatives, and even broke with Governor Dewey after he lost the 1948 Presidential Election, Hall maintaining that the Republican party was soft and overconfident.

Those fights are over and hard feelings have been patched up. Dewey supported Hall for the national chairmanship in 1953. When he left Congress, Hall became Nassau County surrogate, but he was pulled back to Washington as national chairman.

He reorganized the national committee, putting it on a business-like basis and he refused to take the $32,000 salary although he had given up a $25,000 judicial salary. He ran the 1956 convention in San Francisco, as well as the Eisenhower campaigns of 1952 and 1956.

Joint Meeting on Vets' Plot Disposition off to Tuesday

A joint meeting of the Board of Education, the mayor and Common Council and the City Planning Board, scheduled for Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the old IOOF Temple, 43 Division St., has been postponed until the following evening, same time and place, according to Edward V. Cushman, superintendent of public schools.

The purpose of the meeting is an attempt on the part of the Board of Education to convince the aldermen, mayor and Planning Board that a parcel of land at the Bunn St. extension, formerly used for veterans' housing, be given to the school board to be used for parking facilities for students, a new roadway and a future addition to the nearby Senior High School.

The request on the part of the school board met opposition when it was originally read at a Common Council meeting at City Hall, but no action was taken on it at that time. The city has been making plans to divide the land into parcels to be sold for housing and blueprints have already been drawn up by the public works department.

Mayor Thomas F. Gregg has already voiced his opposition to giving the land to the Board of Education, who have not offered any money for it, but have asked for it as a gift from the city. He has stated that the money lost in taxes on the property if the city ceded it to the school board would amount to a great deal and that, at this time, with the city's desperate financial plight, the money realized from sale of the land to individuals and from real estate taxes in the future is most vitally needed.

Some members of the Common Council have also voiced their opposition to the idea and all indications are that it will be a hard fight for the school board to convince the city fathers at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Newspapers

(Concluded From Page One)

"That Adams is out on a limb. Even though the President has expressed unshaken confidence in him, it is unlikely that Adams can get down without jumping from the White House to political anonymity. The melancholy truth is that the prestige of the President has suffered a most serious blow."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, anti-Eisenhower in both campaigns, said of Adams:

"We think his usefulness to the President is ended, and that the President makes a serious mistake, after adopting such a high moral tone on governmental ethics, to condone his assistant's conduct."

The Washington Evening Star, which gave Eisenhower no campaign support, said:

"If Mr. Adams keeps his office a certain sanction will have been given to a double standard of ethics. And it is perfectly obvious that Mr. Adams will be a major political liability to the administration."

One of the most strongly-worded of editorial comments was that of the Republican New York Herald-Tribune. The newspaper, pro-Eisenhower in both elections, said: "No leader since Washington has had such universal respect and admiration as Eisenhower. For five years, Sherman Adams has been the indispensable right arm of the President. He still is. The President wishes him to remain so. Accordingly, he should. The President and Mr. Adams can now get back to work."

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which supported Eisenhower both in 1952 and 1956, praised Adams extensively:

"He certainly should remain in government. Gov. Adams is a man of limitless energy and extraordinary ability. In these trying times such men are altogether too rare. A man of outstanding genius, such high moral standards and such boundless integrity should not be lost to the government because of one guileless indiscretion."

A number of newspapers took the attitude that Adams' continued presence in the government may have to be reconsidered in the light of coming political developments.

Editorial Feelings

Expressing the editorial feelings of the Hearst newspapers, which supported Eisenhower in both elections, the New York Journal-American said:

"The issue has not been resolved by the White House announcement that Mr. Adams will continue in his job. Such an affirmation, admirable as it may be, does not answer the question. It will be answered by political realities which will have to be faced and weighed by the President and Mr. Adams, and by Mr. Adams in his conscience, in the days to come."

The pro-Eisenhower San Francisco Chronicle said in part:

"The popular discovery that the GOP's most outspoken idealist of purity in office has feet of clay and a coat of vicuna will have measurable political effects at the polls in November. We fear that the GOP is about to be tarred by the same brush that it used so forcefully and, let us admit, virtuously, to daub the Democrats in 1952 for their 'mess in Washington'."

The New York Times took a broad view of the situation, criticizing Adams without calling for his ouster. The Times, which has supported Eisenhower, commented:

"Mr. Adams certainly has shown himself to be guilty, as he suggests, of bad judgment—of extraordinarily bad judgment on the part of so experienced and incorruptible a public servant as he unquestionably is."

Bach, composer of "Passacaglia" and other musical classics, began as a Lutheran church organist.
